

Good Clinical Practice in Herbal Therapeutics

Use GCP principles to protect participants and produce data that can be trusted.

Lecture notes

1. GCP is both an ethical and scientific standard for research involving people.
2. The protocol defines the question, eligibility, intervention, monitoring, endpoints and reporting plan.
3. Informed consent is a conversation and record: capacity, voluntary choice, risks, benefits and questions matter.
4. Source records must be attributable, legible, contemporaneous, original and accurate; report adverse events promptly through the approved process.

Watch with purpose

While watching the YouTube lecture, pause at each workflow decision. In your notes, identify: (a) the evidence needed before acting, (b) the safety, ethics or quality control, and (c) the record that proves the step occurred.

Knowledge check

Question	Expected answer
What is the role of an ethics committee?	It independently reviews whether the study protects participants and is ethically justified.
Why cannot a protocol be changed informally?	Unapproved changes can affect participant safety, validity and regulatory compliance.

Practice MCQs

1. Which choice best supports reliable professional practice?
A. Relying on memory after the session B. Recording approved checks and escalating deviations C. Skipping documentation when busy D. Changing findings after review
2. What should guide an action in a supervised learning workflow?
A. A generic online claim B. The approved process, evidence and appropriate oversight C. A marketing target D. An assumption about the case

Answer key: 1-B and 2-B. The course emphasises evidence, transparent records and appropriate supervision.
