

Clinical Yoga Therapy for Lifestyle & Metabolic Disorders

Create a cautious, measurable practice plan that supports—not replaces—clinical care.

Lecture notes

1. Start with baseline information: goals, symptoms, mobility, comorbidities, current treatment and referral red flags.
2. Select practices progressively and adapt intensity, breath work and pacing to the person rather than a one-size routine.
3. Define measurable outcomes such as attendance, perceived exertion, sleep, stress or clinician-approved markers.
4. Document review points and when to pause or refer; educational material is not an individual prescription.

Watch with purpose

While watching the YouTube lecture, pause at each workflow decision. In your notes, identify: (a) the evidence needed before acting, (b) the safety, ethics or quality control, and (c) the record that proves the step occurred.

Knowledge check

Question	Expected answer
What makes a yoga plan person-centred?	It is adapted to the individual's goals, capacity, risks and feedback.
Why set review dates?	They make the plan measurable and enable safe adjustment or referral.

Practice MCQs

1. Which choice best supports reliable professional practice?
A. Relying on memory after the session B. Recording approved checks and escalating deviations C. Skipping documentation when busy D. Changing findings after review
2. What should guide an action in a supervised learning workflow?
A. A generic online claim B. The approved process, evidence and appropriate oversight C. A marketing target D. An assumption about the case

Answer key: 1-B and 2-B. The course emphasises evidence, transparent records and appropriate supervision.
